The first baptismal service for the new Park View Baptist church at Mokena was held Sunday afternoon in the Bethel Baptist church in Joliet, with the local pastor Rev. Arthur Contois officiating.

The baptismal service was administered to Phillip Howell and Richard Gillette, both of Mokena. During the service, Mrs. Jeanette Rydell of Mokena sang a solo and the Misses Bennie Rydell of Mokena and Mary Vaughn of Frankfort sang a duet.

During the regular evening service of the church held in the VFW hall in Mokena, the two men baptised and Miss Vaughn were received into the church membership.

Following the evening service, the family and friends of Phil Howell gathered at the Vern Runia home in Mokena where a farewell party was held for Mr. Howell. He left Feb. 1 for service with the air force. Phil was presented a Bible which was autographed by the group. Pastor Contois followed the presentation with remarks of blessing on behalf of those assembled. The evening also included a program of singing by all and a selection by the Park View choir, led by Richard Gillette. Refreshments were served.

The following deacons will be installed during the 11 o'clock morning service of the Park View church: August Russell, New Lenox and John Ball, Sr., Frankfort. Pastor Contois will officiate and Rev. Last Rites Feb. 2 For Edgar H. Cooper,
90, Oldest Resident Of Orland Park*Carol Burch
Weds J. Garrabrant
At Ft. McDill, Fla.

Carol M. Burch, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. Reed Burch, and John Garrabrant, son of Mr. and Mrs. Neil Garrabrant, were united in marriage in the chapel at Ft. McDill, Fla., in a quiet ceremony Sunday afternoon, Jan. 23. Both families are Homer two residents.

The bride wore a "ballerina" length dress of brocade faille of a pink taupe shade, made in princess style, with hat and other accessories to match, and an orchid corsage.

Following the ceremony, the wedding party, consisting of Mrs. Burch and Mr. and Mrs. Garrabrant, and the newlyweds, enjoyed a wedding dinner at a local tea room.

In the evening the young couple left for a short honeymoon at St. Petersburg, Fla., after which they will reside in an apartment near Camp McDill. For traveling, the bride wore a navy and white suit dress, with white hat and accessories.

The groom has been with the Air Force nearly three years and expects to be discharged sometime this summer. Both are graduates of JTHS. Carol has recently completed a secretarial course at a Joliet business college.

Mrs. Burch, who spent the week preceding the wedding, in Florida, returned by plane to her home here Monday morning. Mr. and Mrs. Garrabrant will tour the south by motor for a few weeks before returning home.

BATSON IMP.
BURGLARIZED
SECOND TIME

For the second time in a little more than a week the Batson Implement Co., New Lenox, was burglarized Sunday night. As on the previous occasion, about $300 worth of tools were taken, including chain saws and Sunbeam equipment. Mixmasters etc.

Entrance was gained, as on the previous occasion, through the east window that leads into the office. To discourage future attempts at entrance via this window, bars are being set across it. Investigation of both robberies is being conducted by the New Lenox police and Deputy Sheriff Charles Timm.

FRANKFORT YOUTH HONOR
POLICE CHIEF

A shiny new wallet was presented to police chief John C. Pease, of Frankfort, by appreciative teen agers. "It's for being nice to us," the youths told the policeman, as the presentation was made.

The teen agers feel that Chief Pease has shown a remarkable understanding of their problems and difficulties, and has tried to help them whenever and wherever possible. This, they thought, should not go without its reward, so they dug deep into their pin money and came up with the gift.

Needless to say, Chief Pease was almost overwhelmed at the thoughtfulness and consideration which had been the main spring of this gift from the youth of Frankfort. He will cherish it all ways, and believes it is a refutation of the current idea that youth is rather incorrigible these days. Chief Pease will never part with that billfold, the idea of which originated with Milton Batson and Wayne Hossbach, sophomores at Lincoln-Way high school, and Jay Massey, a senior at Joliet township high school.

Chief Pease has been a police officer in Frankfort for the past five months. Prior to that time he was a merchant patrolman in Joliet. He likes young people and likes to work with them, and that is one reason they like him. That, too, is a good reason why juvenile problems in Frankfort are practically nil.

PTA BAKE SALE

The PTA of the Mokena public school will hold a bakery sale this Saturday, Feb. 5, in the Cooper & Hostert garage starting at 2 o'clock. There will be a good variety of home food on sale.

Nine of the 11 trustees of the University of Illinois are elected directly by the people; ex officio members are the Governor and State Superintendent of Public Instruction.

Edgar H. Cooper, 90, life-long resident of Orland, died in St. Francis hospital, Blue Island Saturday night, Jan. 29. He had suffered a paralytic stroke five weeks ago and had been hospitalized since.

Born in the Cooper homestead farm on 153rd street, Orland township, Aug. 13, 1864, he attended the schools in his vicinity and always had the interest of the town and village at heart. He was united in marriage with Miss Lydia Hollstein March 20, 1888, and together they continued farming. When they retired from farming 35 years ago they made their home in the village. In 1938 they celebrated their golden wedding anniversary and would have celebrated their 80th wedding anniversary in 1948 had it not been for the death of Mrs. Cooper a month previous to wedding date.

Mr. Cooper was a man of high principles, and respected by all. He was faithful and active member of the Orland Park Methodist church, having served on the official board for many years. He also was a member of the village board serving as trustee, for many years.

Surviving are two sons, Thomas and Charles of Orland Park, 7 grand children, 17 great grandchildren and a brother, William of Brook, Ind. Four children, Arthur, Lydia, Harvey and Pearl preceded their father in death. Funeral services will be held Wednesday afternoon from the Schaefer funeral home to the Orland Park Methodist church, with the pastor, Rev. Robert DeMoss officiating. Burial was made in the Orland Memorial Park cemetery.

History Of Area
Mirrored In L-W
Display Cases

The items in the display cases at Lincoln-Way high school have been collected in the past weeks by the ninth grade Social Studies classes. This collection had its beginning with the preparation of a radio script which the students called "Then and Now," through which the local history of the communities which comprise the high school district was portrayed.

It was their first idea that they try to get pictures for bulletin boards to help portray some of the scenes which were re-enacted in the radio script. However, it soon became obvious to all that many of the items which were being brought to school would be much more suitable for the new display cases.

Through the assistance of the students, parents and grandparents, a considerable amount of research was done in the attics, store-rooms, and basements in the communities which produced a considerable number of very interesting historical items.

Among the items in the display cases are such things as Indian relics, including stone hatchets, arrow-heads, Indian beads, all found in this vicinity. The collection includes a number of old guns, Colt pistols of the Civil War period, several rifles of pre-Civil War vintage. Another interesting item in the Civil War period is a diary which was kept by a medical technician with the Union forces.

In this collection, too, are a number of old books including a McGuffey Reader, several old Bibles, some of them over one hundred years old, a dictionary of the English language which dates back to approximately 1796, a Plat Book of Will County, published in 1893, and an atlas of the State of Illinois dated 1876.

One of the most unusual items is a preserved apple which was picked in the 1880's. It is completely covered with cloves and is still in a good state of preservation. Numerous household items have been brought in, including a wooden salt box, salt dishes, pepper grinders, a number of items of china used by the early pioneers in this area.

A number of items of clothing such as dresses, high button shoes, handbags, some of these items dating back as far as 1828, are also on display. One of the earliest models of the Victor talking machine was brought in by one of the students. Along the musical line is an old music box which is estimated to be eighty years old and is reported to be in good playing condition.

As these items were brought in to school each student bringing in the items gave a brief historical sketch of his contribution. Through the preparation of the display a greater appreciation of the history of the communities was obtained.

Greet 'Aunt Libby'
On 97th Birthday

Thursday, Jan. 27, marked the 97th birthday anniversary of Mrs. C. F. Haley. Several friends, and neighbors dropped in to greet "Aunt Libby" and make her day pleasant, despite the frigid temperatures. The thermometer hovered around the zero mark all day. Among her many greetings were telephone calls during the day from her grandson Robert Storm of Corvallis, Oregon, and from the Robert Kerrs in Florida.

Mrs. Haley has been bed-ridden since a fall last October. She is much improved, and is able to be up in a wheel chair occasionally. Her daughter, Mrs. W. B. Storm, who has been helping to care for her the past three months returned to her home in DeKalb Saturday.

Fish Fail To Bite
But Fla. Fisherman
Makes Good Catch

Following is a reprint of an article appearing in a recent issue of the Leader-Enterprise, of Homestead, Fla., which deals with Rene Guindon, a former employee of the News-Bulletin.

"Rene Guindon, who presides over a Leader-Enterprise line-type between fishing trips, returned home from a day's fishing Sunday night with a new kind of catch.

It seems the fish just wouldn't bite, and Guindon was ready to call it a day. Near his car parked on Highway 27, he noticed that someone had dumped a pile of Christmas wrappings and boxes which would soon be blown over the right of way.

Guindon decided to stop long enough to burn the litter. As he stooped to rush the pile into a safe position before striking a match, he touched something heavy—an unopened box. Inside were two expensive ties.

Fisherman Guindon finished burning the trash, damped it down for extra fire safety, and went home from his fishing trip with a catch of two neckties."

Student Council News

Student Council members have been meeting each week on several school and student problems. Their major problem during this first year has been in supervising all club and class projects. All of these groups apply to the student council for membership and permission to conduct their activities.

Recently the council has been working on the noon lunch recreation program. Since there are four 30-minute lunch periods daily, classes are in continuous operation. Supervision of the corridors and lobby is essential in order not to disturb these regular classes. Since the periods are rather short, there is little time for a regular organized recreation program.

Mokena School News

The first grade was very happy to receive the coveted "angel" trophy-attendance award at the PTA meeting last Tuesday. We appreciate the efforts of all the parents who made this possible.

It is very fitting at this time of year to study about Eskimos. We have made a mural with free hand cut igloos and Eskimos. We colored the Eskimos brown and black so they would look like they were dressed in fur.

The children in the second grade have been enjoying a new type of adventure. During their story time period they have been reading the various chapters that make up "The Wizard of Oz."

There are several books about Oz, and we hope we can read a few more this year.

The 3rd and 4th grades are continuing with their study of farmlands in the United States. Having divided the country into five divisions, we have associated these divisions with certain crops. We have completed individual maps in crayon with appropriate symbols for the special crops under consideration. We shall next proceed to find out why a certain area can grow a certain crop better than other areas.

We will start a new project Monday in the language class. Each one will bring at least three magazines from which to cut out pictures. This will have to do with the outlines we are making covering the first half of the year's work.

In are class we have been making patriotic shields in honor of Washington and Lincoln whose birthdays are observed in February. We have just finished the covers to our social studies booklets which will contain the papers and pictures that we will make the remainder of the year.

The seventh grade has been busily engaged the past week in the magazine business. Results have been excellent, but competition from the eighth grade has been very strong. This spirited contest will end Monday with a hoped for goal of eight hundred dollars for the combined classes total.

Mixed in with their venture into salesmanship, the class began a study of the "Land Down Under". They also found time to collect their report cards for the second quarter.

SIZE OF KOHLWOOD LOTS

A request has come to this newspaper by Richard Kohl, subdivider of the Kohlwood Estates at Mokena, to make a correction in the size of the lots as reported in the issue of Jan. 6 in the proceedings of the Mokena village board.

It was reported that the lots were to be 60 ft. by 110 ft. and 100 ft. by 110 ft. According to Mr. Kohl these dimensions are not correct, and the size of the lots should have been given as ranging from 100x150 ft. to 152 by 298 ft.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Hoolehan who have purchased the Elliott home in Woodland circle moved into it Tuesday.

The Youth Fellowship of the Methodist church enjoyed a progressive dinner Saturday night, starting at 7:30. The first course was served in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Hull, the second course took them to the Lyman Teague home; then on to the Roy Erdman home. As this was a full course dinner, they had to keep traveling, so their next course was served in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Cooper; next in the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Bennett and then to the Garrett Swart home. The last course was served in the Arthur Shoop home where they also enjoyed playing games. The members of the group are most appreciative to all who opened their homes to them and served a course of the dinner to them.
Mrs. Robert Hohenstein underwent surgery in the Norwegian-American hospital in Chicago. She is expected to return home this week end.

Mr. and Mrs. George Devlin and children returned Sunday from a two weeks motor trip to Florida, where they visited with her sister, Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Harland in their home at Vero Beach. It turned out to be a happy family gathering, as Mrs. Devlin's mother and grandmother are spending the winter there and then to top it off, her brother, Robert Herman, of New York City, arrived at Lake-land where he is directing the Little Theatre group. Mr. Devlin enjoyed fishing, making pretty good catches and also shrimp hunting of which he got his share. Since arriving back Mrs. Devlin has acquired a cold.

Mr. and Mrs. Lester Schiek will entertain their Evening pinocle club in their home next Thursday, Feb. 10.

Mrs. Fred Cappel is entertaining the Afternoon pinocle club in her home this afternoon. The Wayfarers will meet this Saturday evening in the Norman Hanson home in Tinley Park.

Rations that are balanced for good growth or milk production in dairy cows are also good enough for reproduction, says a University of Illinois dairy specialist.

A 10-month lactation, a two-month dry period and a live calf every 12 months would be a well-balanced schedule for a dairy cow, but not all cows keep on such a good schedule.

Mokena Lights Beat New Lenox In Conference Game, 32-28

The Mokena Lights scored their most important conference victory Monday, Jan. 31, at New Lenox by upsetting the home team 32 to 28. The win pulled Mokena into a first place tie with New Lenox. Both teams have 5 wins and 1 loss. The loss in each team case was inflicted by each other. New Lenox had previously defeated Mokena 18 to 16.

Mokena's victory was the result of excellent team work and the poise and ability to withstand a late New Lenox rally. New Lenox led 6 to 5 at the quarter, but Mokena applied an effective press to successfully rattle their opponents and pour in 16 points to only 4 for New Lenox. A slow third quarter ended with Mokena still leading 25 to 17. New Lenox then kept continual pressure on Mokena and only some timely scoring by Haehnlein, Porick, and Schuldt in the final minutes insured the victory and first place for Mokena. Haehnlein led Mokena with 14 points while Rühle of New Lenox matched that total for his team.

New Lenox gained more than their share of revenge in the second game as they dealt Mokena's Heavies their first conference loss of the season 34 to 23. The defeat dropped Mokena into a first place tie with Rockdale. Each team has won 5 and lost 1.

New Lenox led throughout the entire game but never by more than 6 points. The half-time score was 19 to 13 but a spirited Mokena rally closed the gap to 25 to 23 in the third period. At this point it appeared to be anyone's game but New Lenox played excellent ball in the final quarter to score 9 points and hold Mokena scoreless.

Becker of New Lenox led both teams in scoring with 10 points and was a constant threat with long shots. The biggest thrill of the game, however, was provided by Lajezzie of Mokena who sank a tremendous long shot from well over half the distance of the floor to end the third quarter. The horn sounded as the ball swished the net for 2 points.

BREMEN HIGH BASKETBALL

Bremen high cagers copped an easy 82-58 conference win over the Lincoln-Way Knights away Friday, Jan. 28.

Wally Warszalek, Brave forward, injured his knee in the second frame and will be out the remainder of the campaign. Spurring ahead 21-13 in the opening stanza, Coach Bill Brown's Braves never were in doubt as to their fifth conference victory in seven starts.

In the second period Al James and Bill Lindsay combined their scoring punch to total 27 points and put the Braves into a 54-23 lead at intermission.

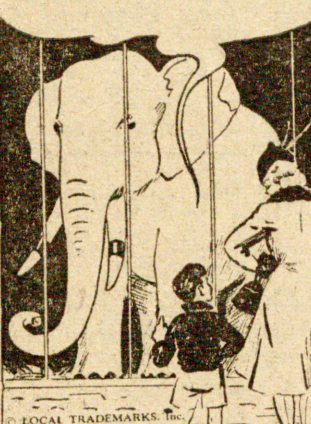

James and Lindsay again set the pace in the third frame as they joined to tally 16 markers. Second teamers took over in the final, and Lincoln-Way held an 11 point margin but were still some 24 tallies short.

Lincoln-Way frosh-soph quintet edged out Bremen 59-55. Dale Hartwig topped the losers with 17 points while Don Wiedner and Jerry O'Neill dropped in 13 and 12 respectively.

With Lincoln-Way
The Lincoln-Way frosh-soph basketball team won its first game of the year Friday night, defeating the Bremen team by a score of 59 to 56. It was a nip and tuck game from start to finish. Just as the half ended, Bremen put in a basket to make the score at the half 29 to 29.

In the third quarter, Bremen jumped to a quick 37-31 lead, but Lincoln-Way pumped in three quick baskets to tie it up, and at the end of the third quarter led 47-44. Ron Studnicki paced both teams with 21 points.

After the game 14 of the team gathered at the home of Herbert Foklers Jr. (Herbert is one of the team) to celebrate the victory and also Herbert's 17th birthday. Luncheon and birthday cake was served.

Arrest Youth On Auto Theft Charge
A 16 year old Chicago youth was arrested in Frankfort Sunday afternoon, on charge of stealing an automobile. The arrest was made by policeman John Pease, who stopped the youth, who was driving a 1955 automobile, on suspicion. The boy admitted taking the car from the parking lot of Hoeftel-Goy, Inc., Ford auto dealers, at 9205 So. Western Ave., Chicago, early Sunday. Pease relayed this information to state police, who contacted Chicago police, who returned the car to Hoeftel-Goy.

The Proposed Salary Raise For Congressmen

The nub of the proposal to double Congressional salaries is, "Will it insure a better qualified more capable, more conscientious Congress to handle the affairs of the Biggest Business on Earth?"

Congress today is made up of three groups: namely, (1) a that wealthy group, (2) a successful group, and (3) an unsuccessful group - a group that is composed of men that have failed in their own field and have entered the political field.

The members of group one, many of them millionaires, can be divided into two classes - those who inherited their wealth and those who have acquired their wealth. The proposed salary increase will have no effect upon this group. An increase in salary means nothing to them.

The members of group two, all mature and fairly successful in their chosen fields have proved their ability. Instead of retiring to Florida or California for the balance of their days, they prefer to take part in managing the Biggest Business on Earth - trying to run the government efficiently and economically. The proposed increase in salary means nothing to this group. All they need is a salary large enough to cover actual expenditures and living costs.

The members of group three, many of whom could not or did not make good in their chosen fields, are in Congress because the salary they get is more than they could earn in any other field. The proposed increase in salary makes a great appeal to this group. But the real question is, will it make them any better qualified, any more capable, any more conscientious as Congressmen? Will it help them to manage the affairs of the Biggest Business on Earth more efficiently or economically?

Which - A Balanced Budget or Foreign Handouts?

Since the close of World War 2 our national debt has increased from $252 billion in 1943 to $275 billion in 1954, an increase of $23 billion. Our Federal taxes have increased from $40 billion in 1946 to $88 billion in 1954, an increase of $28 billion. The increase in our public debt plus the increase in our Federal tax load amounts to approximately what we have given away since the end of World War 2 -- $51 billion.

So, we have unbalanced our budget and increased our tax load in order to help European nations, many of whom have with our aid -- balanced their budgets and reduced their tax loads.

In his recent budget message President Eisenhower asked Congress to appropriate a little over $5 billion for foreign aid -- economic and military -- to be spent during the next fiscal year. Should the Congress appropriate this amount for foreign aid? We could have a balanced budget today if we stopped our "give-away program." Which should it be -- a continuation of foreign hand-outs or a balanced budget? Uncle Sam's Give-Away Record

Since 1946, following World War 2, in an effort to "buy friends" Uncle Sam has given away $47.2 billion of American taxpayers' money. The tabulation is as follows:

Europe$34.6 billion

Asia8.9 billion

Latin America1.1 billion

Middle East and

Africa6 billion
All Others2.0 billion
Total Give-Away--$47.2 billion
Was it a good investment?

Copyright, 1954, Publishers Financial Bureau, Inc.

BABSON DISCUSSES "FINDING FORTUNES"

I have just been asked by a Wall Street banker to help him get some so-called "worthless" securities away from the readers of this column for a few cents a certificate (not per share.)

I hear that for every fifty certificates which this broker buys, he finds that forty-nine are now worthless; but one is worth perhaps $1,000. This would be a certificate which some company needs in order to dissolve or consolidate without any outstanding obligations or complications.

Of course, it would be unfair to my readers for me to advise them what to do. But, I do urge you to throw nothing away which looks like a stock certificate even if your father or brother says it is "valueless" and just cluttering up his desk or safe deposit box. Please do not send me any certificates to look at, but show them to your regular banker, if you wish.

Most of these "worthless" certificates in your attic or desk drawers are of old mining companies. They may never have been any good, or are of mines which have completely "petered out". The company did not have the money to dissolve legally, but some rancher has paid the taxes for the privilege of using the land for pasture. Hence, the company was forgotten after the stockholders were told it was no good.

The land is still useless for getting gold or silver, copper or lead; but uranium may have been found! As a result, the land could increase in value in one week from $5.00 per acre to $50,000 per acre! Some old timer who remembers the old company has found a list of the old stockholders and has written them a letter offering $10.00 a share. As the envelope containing these certificates was marked "valueless," the family sold them for $10.00 per share while today they are really worth $1,000 a share.

Stockholders Too Often Move Away

When you move from one house to another and especially from one city to another, be sure to write the company in which you hold any stock of your new address. Don't ever look at a "valueless" certificate and say it is not worth a 3 cent postage stamp and the time required for writing such a letter. After too many changes of address, your envelope comes back marked "unknown" and the company marks you "dead."

One of the companies in which my family has very large holdings (United Stores Common, selling on the American Stock Exchange for $3 to $4) has nearly 100 such stockholders who cannot be located. Perhaps you are one of these stockholders. There probably are hundreds of other companies just like United Stores. This stock could easily double or treble in value.

When a stock stops paying dividends the price of the stock may gradually decline, but no one gets panicky. When, however, a bond defaults--especially a foreign bond--most bondholders think this is the end. The price of the bond then suddenly drops from around par to fifty cents on the dollar. Discouraged bondholders have rushed to sell their bonds and the price has dropped to twenty or even less. But, in the course of years, many of these bonds returned in value to $1,000.

Some of the hotels in the famous Sheraton Chain were built in the gay nineties. The bonds were sold for $1,000 each. Then they defaulted and kicked about at perhaps $200 for years. Finally, one of Boston's most courageous financiers, Ernest Henderson, had faith in the hotel business and bought up these bonds. They have since been paid off at par.

What You Should Do

Before selling any "worthless stock" or defaulted bond, you can send $2.00 to the Information Center at New Boston, New Hampshire. This gives no investment advice but has lists of 40,000 such stocks and will pass along to you what report it has on file. This is a non-profit educational association to help deserving people on business problems. The $2.00 will cover a full year's inquiry. In other words, you can write again about the same stock or bond any time within 12 months without further cost to you.

BIG DEMAND FOR AGRICULTURE GRADUATES

In the next five years there will be two jobs for every agricultural graduate.

Openings will exist for extension specialists, salesmen, sales managers, agricultural engineers and especially vocational agriculture teachers, says H. W. Hannah, associate dean of the University of Illinois College of Agriculture.

Hannah says that the University has the equipment and facilities for training 50 percent more agriculture students than are now enrolled. First semester enrollment this year has been 1,260, including 400 students enrolled in home economics courses.

With increased demand for graduates, salary levels have become competitive. Hannah points out. Average yearly salaries for agriculture graduates engaged in educational work vary from $3,700 to $9,000. Annual salaries for agriculture graduates in business and industry have been averaging $8,300, with some over $23,000.

Those in farming and farm management average between $3,500 and $8,500. For more information about the opportunities in agriculture and courses available at the University of Illinois, write to the College of Agriculture, Urbana.

When David Dodds Henry becomes president of the University of Illinois next Sept. 1, he will be the 12th man to head the institution since it opened.

Coal is being used on the farm in growing quantities for quick-drying hay, corn and other small grain crops, by means of mobile stoker-fired crop dryers. More than 9,000 fuel-burning crop dryers are now on the nation's farms.

Among the earliest known uses of wood and iron rails on which to rung wagons was in England before 1740, where they were adapted to coal mines and slate quarries.

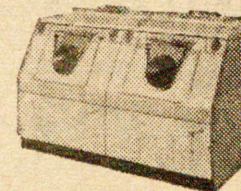

New dock facilities built on the Ohio River for the Ohio Valley Electric Corporation are capable of handling 3,100,000 tons of coal a year at the rate of 25 bargeloads at a time.

The Chesapeake and Ohio Railway, largest coal carrier in the nation, transported more than 56,000,000 tons of coal in 1953, or about 12.5 per cent of total coal production for the year.

Electric utilities are expected to use around 120,000,000 tons of coal to produce power in 1955, an increase of 4.5 per cent in coal consumption to reflect a growth of 7.5 per cent in coal-burning facilities.

DETOUR

The little boy said to his mother, "Is it true that we are made of dust?"

"Yes, dear," his mother answered.

"Well, is it true that we go back to dust when we die?"

"That's what the Bible says," his mother replied.

"Well, mummy, I just looked under my bed and there's some one either coming or going."

Last year, electric utilities in the District of Columbia and six states — Michigan, Wisconsin, North Dakota, Maryland, North Carolina, and West Virginia—burned coal 100 per cent.

Coal mining is America's biggest job. Annual production tonnage of coal outweighs yearly production of food, of steel, of cotton and of cement—sometimes by several times.

Ill. Personnel Administration Bound In Red Tape

"While the Governor of Illinois is held responsible by the public for the state's financial situation, he is so enmeshed in red tape and hampered by divided authority over employees under present laws that he has to fight every step of the way to run the state efficiently," Warren L. Wood, chairman of the State Government Personnel commission, stated recently.

"Everybody and his brother has his fingers in state personnel administration, or employer-employee relations," Wood continued. "It's clearly a case of too many cooks, resulting in confusion and lack of uniformity of employee treatment which affect employee morale and increase wasteful turnover."

The legislative commission, created by the General Assembly in 1953 with the backing of civic organizations and the Civil Service Commission, is composed of Warren Wood as chairman, Senators George Drach, Egbert Groen and William Lynch, and Representatives Franklin U. Strassburg and Paul Powell. The commission is to report to the next General Assembly by March 16, 1955, and to submit at the same time proposed legislation to carry out its recommendations.

A study for the commission by the Institute of Government Research of the University of Illinois showed the following agencies, all involved in personnel administration and each independent of the others: 15,445 employees under the Civil Service Commission; 996 employees of downstate county welfare departments of the Illinois Public Aid Commission under the Merit System Council; 498 State highway police under the Police Merit Board; 605 non-academic employees of the State colleges and universities under the University Civil Service System; 13,639 employees under the patronage office of the Governor; each of the other six elected State officers in control of his own employees - Secretary of State, Auditor of Public Accounts, Treasurer, Lieutenant Governor, Attorney General, Superintendent of Public Instruction, and Clerk of the Supreme Court; all supplemented by personnel operations within each of the various departments and agencies.

Obviously the basic problem the commission has to solve, Wood pointed out, is to eliminate as much as possible of this division of authority over personnel administration, provide the Governor with power and authority commensurate with his responsibility as is done in any industry or business, and at the same time insure that the employees and the public will be protected. To do this, he said, will necessitate blazing new trails in government personnel administration.

Law On The Farm

TITLE INSURANCE

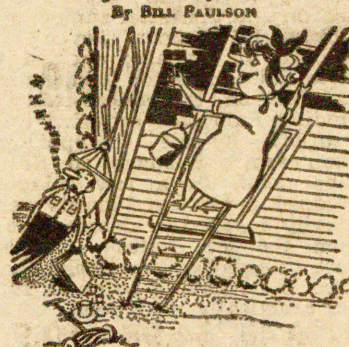

Title to real estate is never perfect. A farmer may feel absolutely certain that he owns his tractor or truck or hog-feeder, but no such certainty is justified with regard to land. This does not mean that real estate titles cannot be good or "merchantable"—it only means that they are never completely free from doubt.

The reason for this doubt is that land never changes its location or wears out (legally speaking), and as time elapses it picks up new owners, mortgages, tenants, trustees, heirs and other parties that have various legal interests. As this process of picking up new interests and losing old ones continues, a chain of title is constructed in the court house records. If all the links in the chain have been recorded, the title is usually merchantable or it can be made so by corrective legal instruments. However, there is still a slight possibility of imperfection in the title—a possibility that some persons wish to protect themselves against with insurance.

Title insurance companies came into existence because increasingly large numbers of owners wanted more protection than could be assured by title examination and defect clearing. Often insurance is desired when a large purchase price is paid or when costly improvements are to be placed on the land after the purchase. Title insurance does not improve the title, but it does protect the owner from financial loss if another party should establish a valid claim against the land. The loss, of course, is limited to the amount of insurance taken. Usually a single premium policy is issued that remains in effect until title to the property is transferred to another.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to thank all who had a part in making our 50th wedding anniversary such a success.

We thank our relatives, neighbors and friends for contributing to the chest and for all the beautiful cards.

Frank and Agnes Sayers

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Sayers were honored on their 50th wedding anniversary, Jan. 25, with a turkey dinner at the home of their son, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Sayers. Other guests were Mr. and Mrs. William Mutsch and Mrs. William Mutsch and family of Tinley Park, Mrs. James Creer and Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Rogers and daughter, Laura, of Orland Park.

Gregory Zimas of Chicago, who spent the week end with his uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Puniszko, had expected to learn canasta during his stay, but instead found himself happily engaged in learning how to ice skate on Sullivan's pond. Sunday the Puniszkos and Gregory, Stanley Koveckis, Stephen and Sharon and the latter's uncle and family, Ed Tumas, Joyce and Richard of Chicago, decided to go to Palos Hills for tobogganing and maybe some ice skating. Finding Palos too crowded they returned home disappointed. Then someone suggested Sullivan's pond. In a few minutes children, parents and guests were merrily engaged in clearing snow from the ice. Before long all were thinking of how lucky they were to be having so much fun, and practically next door.

That the American people are out to lick Polio was well demonstrated in this district Thursday evening when 10 Alpine mothers took part in the March of Dimes and collected $87.25 from Alpine and the adjacent neighborhood. The fine response of residents was impressive and greatly appreciated.

Mothers who participated in the March of Dimes in this district were, Mrs. Raymond Knieriem, Mrs. Strassenburg, Mrs. Owen Maue, Mrs. Harwood Stellwagen, Mrs. Aaron Simrell, Mrs. Joseph Peloequin, Mrs. Henry Felsch, Mrs. Albert Reeves, Mrs. Stuart Culp and Mrs. Edward Mrosek.

Mr. and Mrs. Aaron Simrell entertained friends and relatives at a gay wedding party Saturday evening, honoring their son and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Simrell of Orland Park, whose marriage was solemnized in the Frankfort Methodist church Wednesday evening. The party was held at Raschkes, where the dining room had been engaged for the occasion.

A delicious buffet lunch was served following the opening of lovely gifts by the bridal couple.

Mrs. Stuart Culp entertained at a pretty stork shower in honor of Mrs. Clarence Yelk, Monday afternoon. The gift table was beautifully decorated. The cover was of pink and blue tissue paper and pink and blue streamers fell to its surface from the ceiling. A dress maker doll wearing a bouffant dress of blue and pink petal design which Mrs. Culp had cleverly fashioned from clemex centered the table. In her arms the doll carried a baby doll. A pink and blue cradle, in which a baby doll nestled, completed the setting. Mrs. Yelk, to whom the shower was a complete surprise received many lovely and useful gifts, for which she has expressed much appreciation. A cake, which had been decorated to carry out the shower theme, was served with the luncheon which followed the opening of gifts. Guests were Mrs. Joseph Peloequin, Mrs. Henry Felsch, Mrs. William Felsch, Mrs. Albert Reeves, Mrs. Roy Walker, Mrs. Garrett Cummins and Mrs. Edward Mrosek, Mrs. Culp's daughter-in-law, Mrs. Bud Slansky of Worth, was also present.

Another evening of square dancing, under the direction of Robert Laing of Orland Park, was enjoyed at Maue school Friday.

The Maue school board of directors discussed and took care of routine school business Sunday afternoon.

The regular monthly meeting of the Maue PTA will be held at the school, Wednesday evening, Feb. 9. The nominating committee will give a report.

CHILDREN AS DEPENDENTS

By Ernest J. Sauber, Dist. Director of Internal Revenue

The new tax law permits more liberal treatment of children as dependents.

Parents can now stop worrying about losing an exemption when their children earn $600 or more in a year. Whatever the child earns, you the parent may still claim him as a dependent, if the child is under 19 or in school, and you provide full or chief support.

Under the old law a parent could not claim a $600 exemption for any child who earned $600 or more during the year. Under the new law the child may earn as much as he can and may be claimed as a dependent if he is under 19 years of age provided the parent contributes chief or full support.

If the child is over 19 he may earn over $600 and still be claimed as a dependent provided he is a full time student in a school or college for at least five calendar months of the year. Of course, in this case also, the parent must provide chief or full support.

A child under 19 or a student who earns $600, even though he may be claimed as a dependent, is required to file a tax return of his own, and claim his own exemption.

A child over 19 attending school qualifies as a dependent if the school or college he attends is an educational institution with a regular faculty and a body of students in attendance; if he is a full time student during each of five calendar months of the calendar year in which your taxable year begins; and you as the parent furnish chief or full support.

A correspondence school, employee training course, or on the job training do not qualify. However, on-the-farm training qualifies if it is supervised by an instructor of an educational institution or a state or political subdivision of a state.

G. I. bill payments made to students for tuition and subsistence must be taken into account to determine chief support, but scholarships received while attending school are not treated as support to the student.

Revenue from coal hauling by the Chesapeake and Ohio Railway, the nation's number one coal road, was around 51 per cent of total freight revenues in 1953, or slightly more than $164,000,000.
